NNADAP Joint Technical Working Group Updates

The Joint Technical Working Group was formed out of ORAPC and Chiefs of Ontario advocacy for increased NNADAP funding and wages. This group consists of representatives from ORAPC, the Thunderbird Partnership Foundation, Health Canada, FNIHB, Chiefs of Ontario, Assembly of First Nations and the Assistant Deputy Minister of Health. The Working Group will look at the NNADAP funding, including wages, and provide evidence-based advice for policy and program decisions regarding NNADAP. They have scheduled a face-to-face meeting in February to finalize the Terms of Reference, review materials and identify next steps. ORAPC will continue to keep you updated as this process moves forward.

2015 Ontario NNADAP Conference Highlights

This past year's NNADAP Conference was held at the Airport Marriott Hotel from October 19—21, 2015. There were 117 NNADAP Workers in attendance from 176 different First Nations and Aboriginal Organizations in Ontario.

Stan Wesley, as the master of ceremonies, skillfully guided us through the 3 1/2 days using humor and kindness. He also doubled as our photographer so make sure you check-out the photos which are posted on the Ontario NNADAP website. A Final Conference Report will be available soon and can also be viewed on the website.

There were 17 different workshops offered and NNADAP Workers had the opportunity to receive up to 18 hours of certified training throughout the event. The workshops offered covered a variety of areas including Clinical Supervision, Culturally Safe Practices in Mental Health and Addictions, Self-Help, Trauma, Relapse Prevention, Honouring Our Strengths, AMIS Training, Methadone and Suboxone, Traditional Medicines, Conflict Resolution, Eagle Staff Teachings, Resiliency, Motivational Interviewing, and Vicarious Trauma and Compassion Fatique.

A huge Gchi-Miigwech goes out to all NNADAP Workers for attending and making this another successful and worthwhile training conference!

A Message From ICBOC—"The steps up ICBOC's professional certification laddering system are realistic, and achievable. They recognize the competency of workers at the point they are at in their career and encourage them to continue their professional development. We strongly believe in the capacity, competence and will of our applicants and certified members, and we are committed to provide the support, encouragement, advice and guidance they need or ask for along their professional journey."
